

Delaware Valley

Connecting Kids & Community through Literacy

Early and consistent exposure to books from infancy through childhood is critical for developing educated, well-rounded children.

Cops 'n' Kids Delaware Valley is dedicated to getting books into the hands and homes of children in our local communities.

Cops' n' Kids Delaware Valley is a non-profit initiative funded by the community, supported by volunteers, and dedicated to expanding access to books for children.

AAUW Makefield Area Branch has launched Cops 'n' Kids Delaware Valley.

Our goals are to:

- Collect new and gently used books through book drives and distribute them to children.
- Involve the wider community in promoting literacy by participating in book-focused events with children.

Join us in this exciting new community initiative!

How to support Cops 'n' Kids Delaware Valley:

- Sponsor a book drive at your business, school or club.
- Donate new and gently used books.
- Contribute to our efforts with time, ideas, and funding.
- Volunteer to sort and label books.
- Meet us at community events.
